DigitalMeeting for a Global Market Giving them a sporting chance...

Without a doubt when staging an international event, the greatest challenge is communication, communication, communication.

How do you effectively collaborate with colleagues, contractors, sponsors and participants who are spread world wide? Even if you had an unlimited travel budget you re still unlikely to get the cohesive meeting you need with all key parties present.

We were able to offer you an effective, tested and simple business tool which allows you to meet quickly and effectively regardless of geographic location.

DigitalMeeting provides a unique audio video web package which gives you the opportunity to share and discuss information in a totally secure environment and regardless of whether the participants in that meeting are at work or at home, in the UK or abroad.

If during the meeting you would like to share computer files collaboratively you can do so. Whether this is a floor plan of the proposed location or a pdf file of multi lingual marketing material that requires signing off.

And of course, DigitalMeeting allows you to demonstrate cutting edge service for a cutting edge event. It negates the need for travelling and will significant assist the project to keep on track and in budget.

What is more, not only do we provide you with regular reviews on the effective use of DigitalMeeting, we can offer advice and training on how your staff can use this simple method to make enormous savings overall.

What else can we tell you?

- It can be uploaded immediately
- There are no set up fees
- Guests use a free phone number
- You pay as you go
- Unquestionable ROI
- You need no new hardware
- You need no new software
- You just need to contact us to start using DigitalMeeting TODAY
